

Scope

About disability

Our legacy promise

Leaving a gift in your will is a big decision, and its one that we want you to feel comfortable making. To help reassure you, we've set out a list of promises, so that you know what to expect.

We know that circumstances change

There may be a time when you need to take Scope out of your will. This is your choice and we will always respect it.

We understand your family and friends come first

We only hope that once you've taken care of your loved ones you will consider a gift to charity and think of Scope.

We will always respect your privacy

We will never ask you the size or type of gift if you decide to support our work this way – because every gift makes a difference.

We recognise that the decision to include Scope in your will is your choice

We will never put pressure on you in any way. You can take as much time as you like, it's your money after all – a fact we will never forget.

We'll show you the great work gifts like yours are funding

With gifts in wills accounting for nearly a quarter of our fundraised income, they enable us to provide vital services disabled people and their families rely on.

We promise to use your gift wisely and cost effectively

Your gift will be used where it has the greatest impact for disabled people and their families.

Want to know more?

If you have any further questions, or you would like any other help regarding a gift in your will to Scope please contact our Gifts in Wills Manager Thomas Dixon on 020 7619 7289.

If you prefer you can email him: thomas.dixon@scope.org.uk